

Patient Quality Alliance

Patient Quality Alliance (PQA) is a network of highly-skilled physicians, providers, and independent practices throughout Southeast Idaho.

PQA has recently changed its name to Patient Quality Alliance to provide a broader description that more accurately represents the many provider and facility partnerships we have throughout Southeast Idaho. While we've retained the PQA acronym, which has gained recognition in the region over time, we believe that switching out the word 'Portneuf' for 'Patient' really sums up what we know is most important and that is putting the patient first. The reason we do what we do is to ensure the patients we serve get great care at an affordable cost and have a more coordinated experience.

The Patient Quality Alliance is a healthcare team dedicated to increasing the quality and decreasing the cost of care for everyone.

Our Health Care System is Changing...

PQA is here to help.

In addition to treating you when you're sick, we are striving to keep you well every day.

What is PQA?

PQA is a physician-led clinically integrated network made up of providers and facilities within Southeast Idaho who are committed to providing high quality medical care at an affordable price.

Our vision...

The PQA is an innovative health care team dedicated to utilizing the medical resources of the community to bring higher quality medical care and enhanced medical value, improved medical outcomes, reduced medical costs, and increased collaboration between the men, women, and children of Southeast Idaho and their medical providers.

How will PQA benefit me?

By receiving care from a PQA provider, you will have access to quality, more coordinated medical care and the best treatment possible, right here in your own community. Information regarding your care will be more efficiently shared among providers due to PQA's protected and integrated electronic medical records system. This will help reduce unnecessary tests and duplication of services while still safeguarding your privacy. PQA providers will collaborate with each other to ensure that you receive the right care at the right time, and only when you need it. They will also strive to engage you in the process through shared decision-making.

What role will my primary care provider (PCP) play?

Your PCP will work with you to make sure you understand your treatment options and help you navigate your medical care. By staying informed of your overall health, your PCP will provide treatment when appropriate, order the right test, refer you to specialists when necessary, and help you make informed decisions. Your PCP is here to ensure you are on the path to wellness and the highest quality of life.
